

MERCK

Discovery Day – November 12th & 13th, 2026 (302041)

Discover opportunities for your entry into one of the world's leading science & technology companies through our GOglobal graduate program and take the chance get to know the people involved!

What is the Merck Discovery Day?

The Discovery Day aims to create a pipeline for our GOglobal graduate program and addresses students from various fields of study.

Ideal candidates would be in the mid to end stages of their master's studies or Ph.D. During this two-day event you can get authentic insights from our GOglobals and GOglobal Track Manager, benefit from great networking opportunities and explore our GOglobal program (see website for more details here). Furthermore, you can use the opportunity to work on real case studies. This event will be a very unique experience for only up to 30 candidates which we will invite to participate.

Your application:

To apply for the Discovery Day, please submit your CV in English, which should highlight your academic achievements and demonstrate your enthusiasm and interest in science and technology, as well as an optional motivation letter outlining your preferred function. No additional documents are required. Application deadline is September 6th, 2026.

While applying through our system, you can prioritize which GOglobal track you are most interested in. You have the following options:

- Inhouse Consulting
- Human Resources
- Finance
- Healthcare
- R&D Electronics
- Life Science (R&D and Strategic Product Management)

In case of questions, please don't hesitate to contact us via MerckDiscoveryDay@merckgroup.com.

We are really looking forward to receive your application!
